Personal data and/or non-anoymized samples will be processed[1] in the research project?
No
no application necessary
Yes
Will only data be processed?
Yes
No
Will Data from a register be used
No
Will all the data already be available at the start of the study?
No
Are the samples from a biobank or another study?
No
Prospective study, biobank or register
Yes
Yes
Yes
Study, in which data from a register is used
Retrospective analysis of routine data
Prospective study, biobank or register
Study, in which samples from a biobank are used [1] The collection of data for research purposes is already considered processing within the meaning of data protection law. The collection of data from a patient file would therefore already consitute the processing of personal data.