

UNIVERSITÄT HEIDELBERG

The Heidelberg Faculty of Medicine
Medical Scientist Programm

The Heidelberg Faculty of Medicine's Medical Scientist Programm is a component of its structured Career Development Programm. The central goal of the Medical Scientist Programm is to foster participating scientists' development into group or laboratory leaders in the field of biomedical research. The program is designed for post-doctoral scientists with above-average qualifications who are applying for a research position at the Heidelberg Faculty of Medicine. Participants' research is accompanied by a mandatory curriculum and mentoring program. Participants are awarded a Heidelberg Medical Scientist Certificate confirming their completion of the program.

Up to 3 research positions in the form of Medical Scientist Fellowships with a protected research period of a maximum of three years will be awarded. The Heidelberg Faculty of Medicine will fund a total of two years of full-time research. One additional year must be funded by the host clinic or institute.
